Here's how... legally speaking!

eCopy is a proven, best of breed legal winner that gives your fee earners more time.

Today over 50% of the Global Top 100 law firms and over 40% of the UK's Top 100 are using eCopy as a key enabler in their firm's service delivery, efficiency and profitability. Irrespective of firm size eCopy has a successful track record.

eCopy is a powerful solution for capturing and integrating paper into legal case, practice and disbursement solutions, simplifying and speeding up matter centric document capture, management and distribution. eCopy offers native integration with the key legal systems with a full audit trail, secure knowledge sharing and client confidentiality.

Who wins with eCopy?

eCopy is as much about raising the standards of client facing services as it is improving the bottom line and efficiency of your firm. Customers love the simplicity of eCopy as much as legal secretaries and fee earners. It is a true win-win for both client and law firm.

With eCopy's ability to integrate directly with most of the world's leading case, practice, disbursement, mail, fax server and document management systems, the leverage achieved with eCopy into both your existing and future infrastructure is unprecedented and unlikely to be surpassed.

Who can help you get the most leverage from your investment in eCopy?

Canotec are UK pioneers of eCopy, launching it to a select legal audience in 2002. Canotec has installed and integrated eCopy on a variety of hardware and systems platforms with the help of our very own dedicated eCopy support and development team.

This spring Canotec will pass the landmark of 200 installations!

Safe hands is what Canotec offers when it comes to integrating eCopy. We have the know how, the skill sets, the people and a friendly professional approach that delivers the desired results for your firm.

How do you get your hands on eCopy?

Experience is no good if it is not shared and you need to experience eCopy! To help firms of all shapes and sizes weigh up the merits of eCopy, Canotec are offering free 45 day eCopy pilots and evaluation units for any law firm interested in experiencing the value of eCopy first hand.

An alternative pair of hands?

If you are suspicious of "show offers" and "salesmen bearing gifts and promises" then why not arrange to speak to a few of our Legal eCopy customers or better still, pay our standard consultancy rates if it makes you feel more comfortable and we will show you the value and results that we can deliver. Either way, you will quickly discover you are in the safest hands in the business when it comes to eCopy.
